How to use Library Forms

Requesting non-library resources through Library Forms

You can use Library Forms to request Journal Articles, Book Chapters, and Literature Searches when you can't find these in the available library resources. When you submit a Library Request Form, the RACS Library team will source the requested article/book chapter for you.

Important

When using the Surgeons.org page or eHub you will be required to log in if you have not already done so.

Remember: Enter your RACS username and complete the login process. Your new username should read as 'xx.yy@my.surgeons.org'

1. Submit Request

Go to the Forms section on the RACS Library page and click the form you want to access.

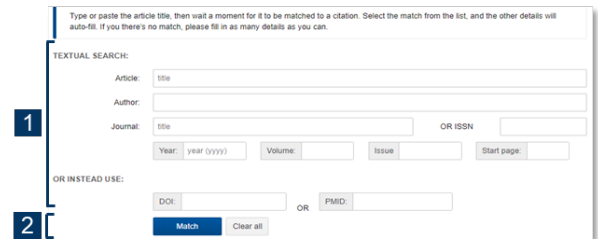

Forms

Filling out the forms helps us to get all the information required and enables us to comply with Copyright legislation.

1.1 Submit Journal Article Request

1. Start to type the title of the Article.
Once you start typing the Article title, the rest of the details will get auto-populated based on the information in the Library holdings.
2. Click MATCH
 - If the Journal Article is in the library resources, you will be notified immediately.
 - If the resource is not held in the library, you will be required to provide further details.
3. Read the Copyright Declaration and tick the YES box to agree.
4. Most of the fields will be prefilled. Check the Request Type is selected as 'Journal Article Request' and the rest of the fields in the Journal Article section are accurately filled.
Note: Article Title, Author, Journal, and Year/Volume/Issue/Pages are mandatory fields as this information will help the Library team locate/access your requested journal article.
5. If you want to provide any additional information for the Library team, put it in the Notes field.
6. Articles are supplied in English where possible, but some are only available in the language they were written. If you are happy to receive a non-English article, please select Any Language, or This/These Language if you want specific languages. The Library does not provide a translation service.
7. Click SUBMIT
8. Confirmation message will be displayed on the screen.

Type or paste the article title, then wait a moment for it to be matched to a citation. Select the match from the list, and the other details will auto-fill. If you there's no match, please fill in as many details as you can.

8. Confirmation message will be displayed on the screen.

The screenshot shows a two-part form. The top part is a search interface with fields for Chapter, Book, Author, and Publisher, along with Year, Edition, and Pages. A 'Match' button is highlighted with a blue box and the number 2. The bottom part is the 'Request Type' form, where 'Book Chapter Requests' is selected. The 'Book Chapter' section contains fields for Chapter Title, Chapter Author, Pages, DOI, Book Title, Book Author/Editor, Edition, Year of Publication, and ISSN/ISBN. The 'Notes' field is highlighted with a blue box and the number 5. At the bottom, there are radio buttons for language selection: English (selected), Any Language, and This/These Language. This section is highlighted with a blue box and the number 6.

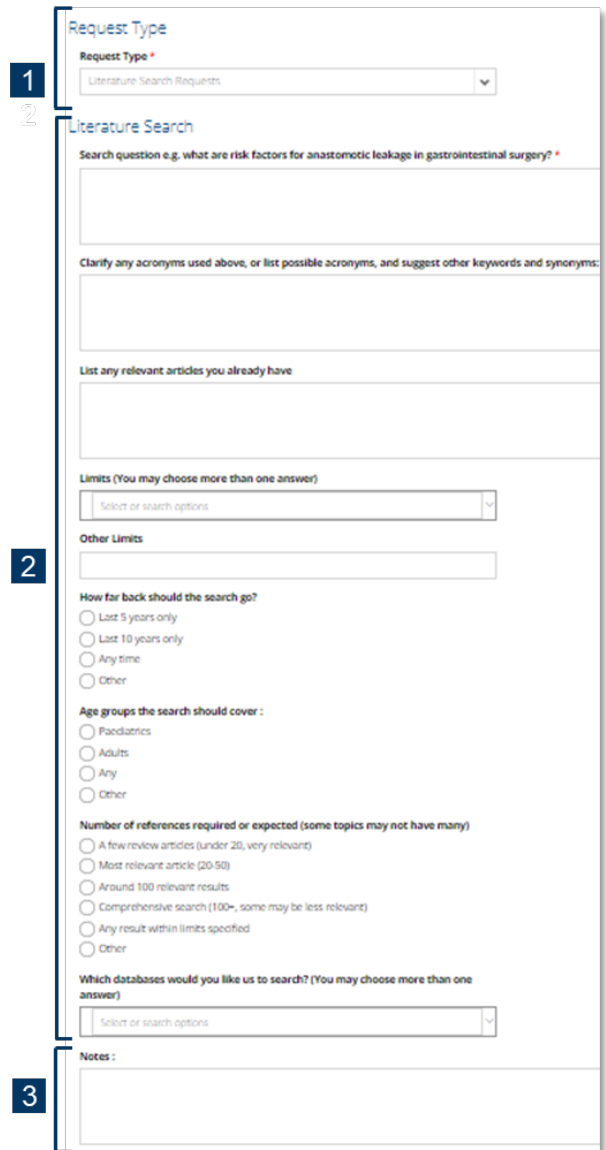

1.3 Submit Literature Search Request

1. Check the Request Type is selected as 'Literature Search Request'
2. Complete the fields in the Literature Search section.

Note: Search question and Clarify any acronyms used above, or list possible acronyms, and suggest other keywords and synonyms are mandatory fields as this information will help the Library team to complete a thorough search.

Please fill out the limits, time, ages, and number of references expected also.

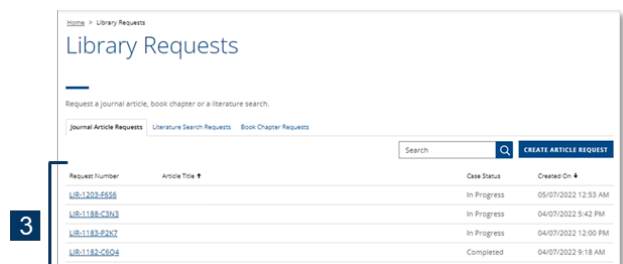

3. If you want to provide any additional information for the Library team, put it in the Notes field.
4. Click SUBMIT
5. Confirmation message will be displayed on the screen.

The screenshot shows the 'Request Type' dropdown set to 'Literature Search Requests' (callout 1). The 'Literature Search' section includes a 'Search question' field (callout 2), a 'Clarify any acronyms...' field, and a 'List any relevant articles...' field. Below these are 'Limits' and 'Other Limits' dropdowns, radio button options for 'How far back should the search go?' and 'Age groups the search should cover', and radio button options for 'Number of references required or expected'. At the bottom is a 'Notes' field (callout 3).

2. Track Progress

1. Go to Library Requests home page
2. Click on the relevant tab
3. All the requests submitted by you or the Librarian on your behalf and the status will be displayed
4. Click on the Request number to expand the request details

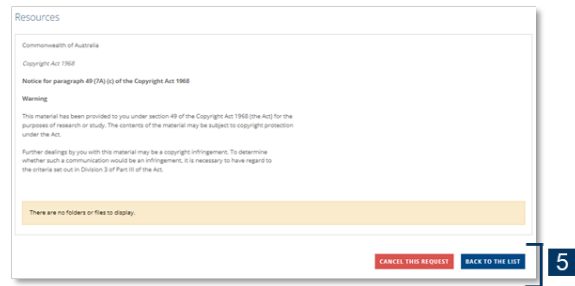

The screenshot shows the 'Library Requests' page with a table of requests. A callout 3 points to the 'Request Number' column.
